16 New York Gallery Shows Where You’ll Find Exciting Young Artists This October

by Casey Lesser
September 30, 2016

Kyle Thurman at Off Vendome

In November 2015, Thurman began producing one drawing each day, all based on images found in the news. In the current show, he presents several of these drawings, which he’s enlarged to human scale to reflect on the rate at which we consume information we find online and how it transforms when removed from its original context.

Original article: https://www.artsy.net/article/artsy-editorial-16-new-york-shows-where-you-ll-find-exciting-young-artists-this-october